Presented at “What Comes First: The Food or the Nutrient?” as a satellite session to the American Society for Nutrition Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting at Experimental Biology, held in Boston, MA, on 19 April 2013. The satellite session and supplement publication were supported by the California Walnut Commission (CWC). All session speakers received travel funding and/or honoraria for participation in the meeting and manuscript preparation. The views expressed are those of the authors. Because the symposium was held on the day of the city lockdown in the search for the Boston Marathon bomber, presentation was to a limited audience; Dr. Katz was not present. The recorded presentations are available at http://www.nutrition.org/education-and-professional-development/archived-content-from-past-meetings-and-professional-development-events/ASN-At-EB-2013/recorded-sessions/satellite-session-what-comes-first-the-food-or-the-nutrient/. The CWC and all of the presenters express their solidarity with the people of Boston, and particularly with those killed or injured at the Boston Marathon. The Supplement Coordinator for this supplement was David R. Jacobs Jr. Supplement Coordinator disclosures: David R. Jacobs Jr., PhD, is a consultant at the California Walnut Commission (member of the Scientific Advisory Council). Dr. Jacobs’ travel expense to Experimental Biology 2013 was paid by the California Walnut Commission. Dr. Jacobs is otherwise employed by the University of Minnesota and is supported by government grants. This supplement is the responsibility of the Guest Editor to whom the Editor of The Journal of Nutrition has delegated supervision of both technical conformity to the published regulations of The Journal of Nutrition and general oversight of the scientific merit of each article. The Guest Editor for this supplement was Kevin Schalinske. Guest Editor disclosure: Kevin Schalinske had no conflicts to disclose. Publication costs for this supplement were defrayed in part by the payment of page charges. This publication must therefore be hereby marked “advertisement” in accordance with 18 USC section 1734 solely to indicate this fact. The opinions expressed in this publication are those of the authors and are not attributable to the sponsors or the publisher, Editor, or Editorial Board of The Journal of Nutrition.
